ST. VITUS'S THE CASE OF CALEB POWERS.

One of the Most Outrageous Political Persecutions of all Time.

An Interview With Attorney Robert C. Kinkead, of Louisville--Some Interesting Facts.

Dance, or chores, is one of the most pleasurable afflictions humanity is called upon to endure. That it is a curse no one can deny, however, is proven by the fact that it has been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The tranquilizing effect upon the nerves exercised by this remarkable prescription is witnessed to by thousands who have found healing and strength in its use. It not only cures the disease, but it promotes the health of the whole body. It has nerve-feeding, strength-giving, sleep-inducing, muscle-toning, and other things which make weak people strong and sick women well.

"Favorite Prescription" contains entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics. It cannot disagree with the weakest and most delicate constitution.

When our daughter was ill, St. Vitus' prescription was given to her, and she soon recovered. We have read it written by Henry L. Miller, Esq., another thing I found that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cured patients suffering from the disease very bad at that time and could hardly talk. When I read about your medicines in the paper, I said that medicines we can cure our daughter. We cured her, and I did not have to take her to the doctor any more. She is well, thank God and the "Favorite Prescription" for it."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure all diseases.

GOEBEL AS HE STOOD WHEN SHOT. THE

FACTS, HOWEVER, DID NOT FIT. THEY COULD

AT WHICH HE FELL WAS POINTED OUT TO HIM

ABOUT TWO WEEKS AFTER THE SHOOTING;

AND, FURTHER, THAT A DEVOTION

TO THE ANTI-SLAVERY CAUSE

MADE IT IMPOSSIBLE FOR GOEBEL

TO STAND IN THAT POSITION.

"IT CERTAINLY IS A FACT, AND THE

METHODS RESTORED TO FOR OBTAINING

THEIR JURIES ARE MATTERS OF RECORD.

I DO NOT KNOW HOW THE FACT COULD BE

MORE CLEARLY SHOWN THAN BY THE AFFIDAVIT

OF MR. POWERS, FILED UPON THE

THE CASE OF CALEB POWERS.

Caleb Powers has been tried twice before Judge Cantrell against his will; by two Goebel Democratic juries, over his most earnest protest; in each instance he was convicted and sentenced to a living death in the dally old penitentiary at Frankfort. The offense for these sentences is simon-pure Republicanism, and his election to the office of Secretary of State over a member of the 1890 Goebel ticket.

Powers has labored against great odds, the Commonwealth itself is a great power to combat with, but the influence of that $100,000 blood money greatly strengthens the Commonwealth. The tories from the corruption fund have induced perjured souls to come bitter and testify, receiving immunity and reward. A story is told them, the scene is the Goebel murder, the palace is Frankfort, and though they were in Grayson Springs—150 miles away, or in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky and Virginia—their vision excellent: they see gun barrels protruding from windows in the State building, a cloud of smoke is visible, the sharp, harsh sound of a rifle is heard, a man is seen fall, miraculous conversations are heard, plots of conspiracy are told to every rake of creation, and every Republican that ever saw Frankfort is responsible for the murder of Senator Goebel, one of the unfortunate is Caleb Powers.

The author of this nicely laid story is Tom Courthouse Campbell, a notorious character, who fled from the fury of an outraged populace from Cincinnati by the sight of a burning court house. This professional gatherer of perjured testimony is the counsel employed by the Commonwealth of Kentucky, which guarantees to every subject a fair and impartial trial, to invent fabulous stories that will convict innocent men. Poor indeed, must be the cause of the Commonwealth when it resorts to the services of such a man as Tom Campbell, whom Cincinnati citizens burned their court house to destroy.

Besides having a professional criminal lawyer to lead the prosecution, the Commonwealth has on the bench, a man who openly boasted, in his announcement for the U. S. Senate, that he was responsible for the present Democratic regime at Frankfort, notwithstanding the fact that the people had ordained to the contrary, and for this service to the party, for his partisan and partial rulings, for the infamy heaped upon the judiciary and his own head, he based his claims to promotion at the hands of the Democratic party. Under such circumstances it is no wonder that convictions come on short notice, per order, just before elections, when it is a party necessity, a party demand.

The case of the much abused and persecuted Caleb Powers will soon go to the Court of Appeals, the highest court in the State, for a second reversal. This court will unquestionably reverse the Democratic party, as represented in its political jurist, Jas. E. Cantrell, and in reversing Cantrell the second time, it should pour a little common horse sense into the head of the presiding judge, that he may act with some compunction of conscience hereafter and it ought to forbid his sitting in the trial of Powers or any other accused of the crime of being elected to a State office on the Republican ticket.

Out of three hundred men summoned as jurors to try the case of Caleb Powers, only five were Republicans and not one was chosen on either jury. All came from localities strongly prejudiced against the accused, seeing but one side of the case, and in their judgment, acquitted by the bitterest and most intense feeling of partisan hate, harboring in their bosom flames of party passion, and personal animosity, fanned to active party service by cruel and biased rulings of a despotic judge.

The unfortunate condition of this noble, brave, chivalrous young man certainly appeals to the sympathy of all men outside the realms of party passion. We believe in the absolute innocence of Caleb Powers, and from the manner of the prosecution, its conduct and Cantrell's Mayville speech, cannot understand what condition the mind that sees otherwise. All men are agreed that Cantrell should have vacated the bench on the filing of Powers' affidavit; that the jury should be fairly and impartially selected; that the testimony submitted ought not come from trained witnesses duped and bribed to swear according to necessities. Those who believe in the impartial administration of justice, can do other than censure Cantrell and the prosecution for the character of the prosecution. If the time shall ever come when Powers is tried by a fair and impartial trial judge and jury, he will certainly vindicated. There is no case in history so clearly and objectively outlined, for persecution of the innocent, there is not a parallel.

When we go into the bank breaking business, we'll take all in sight, leaving the sacks of silver and claiming the boxes of gold. We ain't much on free silver no way, ain't you Messrs. Marsh, Keeley, Mills, Gray?

The interview, of Mr. R. C. Kinhead, counsel for Caleb Powers, on first page, is a lucid statement of the trials of Kentucky's outraged Secretary of State. Read it.

CANTRELL has had his Senatorial aspirations "nipped in the bud." Now, will he not vacate the bench, and allow an impartial judge to sit in the Powers case?

BRING guyed by the boys the Hartford bank burglars replied, "Oh, well, we're gentleman of our class." Yes, but—the class.

An Honest Lawyer.

Newport, Ky., Jan. 21.—A case without a parallel in the Campbell Circuit Court was tried to-day. The style of the case was Brown & Terrell vs. Haase, and upon its calling defendant's attorneys were absent. Mr. Terrell, one of the plaintiffs, arose and said he was a practicing attorney of Covington, and being directly interested in the case he did not desire to take advantage of the attorneys on the other side and asked for a continuance. A messenger was dispatched for the absent attorneys, but returned without either and the court ordered the case to proceed.

Mr. Terrell, as attorney, witness and one of the plaintiffs, was requested by the court to make a statement to the jury. He proceeded, and created a mild sensation no straightforward as he sat at his desk in detailing sides, reading the answer in full of the defendant, in which it was alleged that he was conspicuous in the recent conference in New York between a number of prominent capitalists and labor leaders, a hundred or more of his friends in the city this afternoon presented to him a fine statue, emblematic of "Peace." The figure is full length, of the finest marble, and is the work of an Italian sculptor.

In replying to the presentation address made by Judge Sanders who referred to Senator Hanna's part in the last two Presidential campaigns, Senator Hanna, after disclaiming any personal credit for what had been accomplished in 1866, said, in referring to President McKinley:

"I remember as I looked the last time on that noble face, cold in death, that it seemed to me as if the work was done. It seemed to me as if, in that beautiful death, there had ended for me all ambition. But time gave me the opportunity to think and to remember the principles for which he stood, the principles to which he had devoted his life's work; and then I knew that my work was only half done; that what might remain to me of life, of energy and ability to execute, should be consecrated that these principles and policies might be perpetuated."

"I have noticed that the sale on Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets is almost invariably to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when again in need of such a remedy? Try them when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. For sale by all druggists.

"Shimplaster" currency is a rare sight in these days, but the Danville Advocate tells of some recently brought to light in Boyle county:

A colored man last week deposited at the Citizens' Bank several bills of postal currency, which was issued during the Civil War, on account of the suspension of specie payment.

They are of the denominations of fifty, twenty-five, fifteen, ten and five cents and are in splendid state of preservation. They had been in the possession of the colored man's mother since the war until her death a few weeks ago.

Boy's Dream Comes True.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 22.—The dreams of Edward Glaub, of Ross Station on the West Pennsylvania road, came true. Three nights in succession he dreamed that his little five-year-old sister, Mary, was burning to death. Yesterday afternoon she, with a number of others, was skating at Ross Grove. There was about a dozen boys in the skating party, including the girl's brother, Edward, aged sixteen. A fire was built by the skaters.

Mary was standing by the fire when the flames blew against her clothes, setting them on fire. Her brother tore the burning clothes from the girl. She was taken home and a physician whatever may have been thought during the Spanish-American war no ill will exists now, and that desire of each is to cement the bonds of friendship already existing. The visit of Prince Henry is a part of this programme and we may be sure that other nations will take great interest in our affairs and make it as pleasant as possible to us. The lesson of it all is that we should be prepared for a united attack at any time. Things move quickly in these days and we never know when such an eventuality may occur. We should set our house in order, complete our coast defenses and increase the size of our navy. The cry of economy always raised when the proposition to build warships comes up is a false cry and it seeks a false economy. It is much cheaper as well as much wiser to avoid a conflict by being prepared to repel it than it would be to suffer the disaster which would follow should a conflict ensue.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Seeking an Issue.

Adal Stevenson is still alive. He seems to have been hibernating somewhere, and has waked up with the same notions that he had back in the last century about the Tariff as an issue for the Democratic party.

Adal was away somewhere, or he would know that the Tariff was worked out by the Democratic party. It was a campaign partly on the Tariff issue and partly on Republican dissatisfaction with some features of the Harrison administration, and used its victory to make war on the industrial forces of the country, thus precipitating hard times and a financial panic.

Before the Democratic party can hope to win on a Tariff issue, all the men, women and children, who suffered by reason of the last Democratic victory must pass away and a new generation come who do not know what it means to close the mills and factories.

With the Tariff for an issue the Democrats would be foored in defeat, but the use of the Tariff for an issue would produce hard times by causing manufacturers to reduce their output for fear they might have to readjust their business to a new Tariff scale.

Adal's advice, if taken, would work incalculable injury to the people besides insuring Democratic defeat let the Tariff alone. Chewing gum would be a safer issue for the Democrats.—Jersey City Journal.

Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James F. Treadgert, merchant, Anna Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands.

The pains in the chest indicate an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. For sale by all druggists.

Child Burned to Death.

A little girl, four years old, a daughter of Russell Talbot, at Union, died Saturday from the effects of burns received the day before. The child was at home alone when the accident occurred, and the only thing that threw any light on the tragedy was a broom, which was burned. The child lived about twelve hours, though the flesh was burned from the bones in several places.—Owensboro Journal.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The Senate Committee on Pensions today entered a favorable report upon Senator Hanna's bill in granting a pension of $5,000 a year to Mrs. Isabella McKinley, widow of the late President McKinley.

When the bill was introduced, Senator Hanna's efforts to bring about a favorable report were foiled by the opposition of the Senate, which voted down the bill.

Chinese Exclusion.

The people of the Pacific coast are not alone in their apprehension that Congress may not enact the Chinese exclusion law that is about to expire. The whole country is interested, and, in fact, the few white men comparatively who inhabit this earth feel this interest. If we open the doors to the hordes of yellow men from the East, it means that our civilization will be overruled and blotted out. We cannot hope to absorb or assimilate the countless millions that would come to us were the barriers laid down. In less than a century the civilization of this country would be Mongolian. With this point gained by the Chinese there will be nothing left the white man but a few million people in Europe, and these could not withstand the tidal wave which would roll over them when menaced from America as well as from Asia.

The white man has about all he can do to defend and perpetuate his civilization at best, and even at best the day may come when the white man will be as extinct on this earth as is the Dodo or the Mourning Dove.

But aside from the ethnological reasons, the Chinese should be excluded from this country because they will compete and degrade the labor of the country. America is great because her laborers receive a higher wage scale than those of any other nation.

Living as they do in a higher plane and surrounded by more comforts and conveniences, they are more intelligent and energetic and possess greater individual and collective productive capacity than any other people in the world. They are the foundations of our progress, and to degrade them will mean the weakening of not tearing down of the edifice of civilization we have erected and of which we are justly proud.

The clamor that is being made for opening the doors to the Chinese is a clamor of greed and selfishness. It comes from the great corporations and manufacturing industries, particularly of the East, who desire cheap labor, and who would prefer free labor or unpaid labor if they could get it. Congress should at once re-enact the Chinese exclusion law, and it might be wise to make it perpetual.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a strong smell indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen, it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys are bad; are our 1st order.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmers Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to urinate and seduces pain in the head, wine or beer, and removes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its won- derful curative power.

If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent free. Write to Dr. Kilmers, Home of Swamp Root Co., Birmingham, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or stagnant condition of the kidneys or liver, and are a warning it is extremely hazardous to neglect, so important is a healthy action of these organs. They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by gloomy foreboding and despondency.

"I had pains in my back, could not sleep and when I got up in the morning felt worse than the night before. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and now I can sleep and get up in the morning and able to do my work. I attribute my cure entirely to Hood's Sarsaparilla," Mrs. J. N. Peary, care H. S. Copeland, Pike Road, Ala.

Emit Tilford, a young man about twenty-one years old, fell under a Falls of Rough passenger train at Horse Branch Tuesday and had his right leg cut off just below the knee. A physician from Leitchfield was summoned and the leg amputated above the knee. He was playing the trick of a foolish boy—stealing a ride, and when he jumped from the train slipped and fell under the moving cars with the above results.

Miss Nannie Moore died at residence, near Narrows, Saturday morning of pneumonia. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. J. Bean, after which her remains were interred in the Tabor-burying ground in the presence of many friends. She was a sister of Mr. W. H. Moore, of Hartford, and had been a member of the Christian church for thirty years previous to her death.

Mrs. J. L. Rogers, Greenville, who went to California sometime since her health has grown much worse and telegraphed her husband early in the week to join her at the very earliest moment. Mr. Rogers left Greenville Monday night for California. It will take some four or five days to span the 3,000 intervening miles, and his wife's health will permit, a speedy homeward journey will be made.

Think Collier is out of it.

Washington, Jan. 22.—While the President has announced no decision in the matter of the Surveyors at Lonville, the chances favor the appointment of C. M. Farnett, or of some one not yet mentioned. Ex-Governor Bradley and Representative Irwin have brought strong influence to bear on the President, some of it from outside Kentucky, in favor of General Collier. The fact that not only is Senator Deboe opposed to his confirmation, but that Senator Blackburn has no hesitancy in declaring his purpose to fight Collier's confirmation, is embarrassing. The President does not wish to antagonize both Kentucky Senators, particularly Representative to be" McKenzie Moss and Commissioner Veres for or against him.

At about 11 o'clock the posse led by the faithful bloodhounds, overtook the robbers in the Rough river flats above town. They realized that they were up against the inevitable, and sought refuge in darkness. They lost their bearings and wandered about town until 4 o'clock, when Capt. John G. Keown ran upon them at the junction of Washington and Clay streets and exchanged eight or ten shots with them. By this time the whole community was aroused and escape seemed an impossibility. Every point in the county was notified by "phone to be on guard.

Mr. Calley Acton, Dundee, arrived in Hartford early with his bloodhounds and a posse of forty or fifty men followed in close pursuit the bewildered and disappoindtive thieves.

Feb. 5, 1901.
Dr. Taft Bros., Medicine Co.

Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I chanced to see your sign upon your windows on 130th street, New York, at once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her Asthma had disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease. Yours respectfully, O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

Dr. Taft Bros., Medicine Co.

Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies, but they have all failed. I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have since purchased your full-size bottle, and I am ever grateful. I have family of four children, and for six years was unable to work. I am now in the best of health and am doing business every day. This testimony you can make such use of as you see fit. Home address 135 Lexington street

S. RAPHAEL, 67 East 12th st., New York City.

Trial Bottle Sent Absolutely Free on Receipt of Postal.

Do not delay. Write at once, addressing DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO., 79 East 130th St., N. Y. City.

LIVING ON A FARM.

You may talk of oiling on a farm, As being a little rough, And most of the people of that class, As being a little "tough" But it makes no difference w' at you say.

Twill cause me no alarm, For I'm no candidate, you know, Just a man upon a farm.

And you can't hurt a farmer much.

With anything you tell,

No, not like the business man,

And the Duke and the swell.

I know there's a hump o' money,

In business of most any form,

But then, that money doesn't stick.

Like money made upon a farm,

A farmer goes hand-in-hand with nature.

As he gaily tills the soil,

All above, beneath and around him,

Was wrought by God's own hand;

And it matters not with him

Though the days be cold or warm—

Earth is next to paradise to man.

Who sees the beauties of a farm,

And so it was with Adam.

When he was cast out from paradise

Though his sorrows were very great,

If new farming would be nice;

And surely he had the true soul

Of the farmer of to-day,

For he did not lose hope,

When his pleasures passed away.

I envy not the great statesmen,

Or the heroes of these days,

Though their names be widely sung.

In a nation's tumultuous pulse;

The life is but a bustle, and

A hustle, and a heap of alarm,

Nothing like the peaceful calm,

Of life upon a farm.

I admire the artist very much,

Whose soul by nature is led—

Who can paint, in glowing color,

Of daisy fields, meadows and old home-stands,

With cattle 'round the barn—

But then, what a lit'le picture of But life upon a farm?

—LAURA SHERIFF.

Feeding Swine.

Try to feed your hogs regularly Never feed late, especially the evening meal. It is better to abandon the evening meal than to feed it late.

When you commence to cross-feed you are not sure what the outcome will be, but most likely it will be a dismal failure.

Watch your hogs closely and see that their digestion is good, for unless your hogs are healthy there will not be required an out of gain.

Give the sows all pigs a good start

POWERFUL MEN OF THE EAST

An interesting explanation of their unusual strength

The secret of their marvelous vitality and Force judiciously handled.

Women of the Human Compound a Woman Rejuvenating Effects are Almost Miraculous and Astonishing the Most Skeptical.

The longest hours of unceasing modern seekers after the fountain of Perpetual Youth, can scarcely have done better than those impelled by the numerous compound, known throughout the East as EL. MOKHIL.

EL. MOKHIL has been practically unknown, excepting among the Turko-Persians.

Recently, however, a prominent writer Arabic, Persian, finished his country for political education, he has been able to learn the secret of his knowledge, to earn a high position holding his station, in supplying this valuable compound EL. MOKHIL to the nobility and wealthier classes all Europe, who have especially paid high prices for it. In regard to the benefits received.

Content with the large income derived from his business, he has given himself up to the formula of his remedy, to his family and friends.

EL. MOKHIL has been prepared for sale exclusively for the first time in the American market.

This remedy must not be combined with the numerous nervous, exhaustion, lost muscle, and other remedies which are adulterated and sometimes dangerous.

EL. MOKHIL is a remedy for one specific purpose, that is, to restore the health and prevent illness in men, its miraculous effects in restoring the health of the vital principles, especially in the heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc., and its use is universal all over the land, where it is sold.
